An Explosion Caused by a Boy.

San Bernardino, Jan. 13.—Last night Eddy Rouse, a boy of 10 years dropped a blazing stick into a tank containing 5,000 gallons of oil used for running the engine at the San Bernardino laundry. A terrific explosion followed. Eddy Rouse, Harry Taylor and Billy Edwards were terribly burned and are in a critical condition. The engineer closed the opening in the tank and smothered the flames.

A Rank Fake.

The APPEAL desires to warn the reading public against the imposition now being practiced by the book publishers, who print spicily pictures on the covers of books, which cause a man to come down for his last half dollar, only to find the inside of the book a dreary mass of dull Puritanical trash utterly devoid of sin, or even an approach to naughtiness. Only yesterday one of our compositors purchased a book called "Hidden Guilt" with a half clad female on the cover and he said there was nothing in the work that would bring a blush to a sixteen-year-old school-girl. His literary stomach craves stronger and spicier reading.

Coming up on the train a few days ago the APPEAL editor himself was done up for a dollar by the train boy on a similar lay.

"We don't dare to sell this book except in the smoker," said he in a whisper, showing a book with a title and frontispiece that caused ten of us to pounce on it at once. Bob Keating, Tom Rickey, Black Wallace, Coiner Colburn, Johnnie Jones and others were victims along with us.

The book was a Sunday School book in the attractive covers of the sinful world. If this is continued the APPEAL will demand of the Silver party a law to punish these fellows who impose on a man's feelings in this way.

TOWNSENDISMS.

Taken From the "Homer Index" of January 7.

Some men think that the machinery of the universe would stop if it were not for them. Every little lousy bantam rooster is cock-sure that his morning crowing has a good deal to do with making the sun rise, yet any old hen can make him leave the manure pile.

When G. H. Bump was married the other day in Bridgeport he sent a generous chunk of wedding cake to a young lady friend in Landy. The lady ate it and then went to sleep to dream of her future husband. She awoke in a dreadful state of alarm, and declared that she would rather remain single for a thousand years than marry the man she saw in her dream.

Ex-Governor Blaisdel says there is not a paying mine in the State of Nevada. The lengthy ex-magistrate should keep such little things to himself. No other man has made so many fizzes in mining. It was said that when he ran the Humboldt mine in Aurora he opened every shift with prayer and closed it with the doxology.

Funeral of Alonzo Parker.

Yesterday morning the remains of Alonzo Parker reached this city from San Francisco accompanied by his widow and Mrs. S. C. Wright.

The burial took place from the White House, Rev. Hyslop officiating, with the beautiful burial service of the Episcopal church. The coffin was covered with flowers from the friends of the deceased.

The choir of ladies and gentlemen sang the Burial Hymn to organ accompaniment. The remains were taken to the cemetery headed by the Mint employees and members of Custer Post with draped colors. A long line of carriages followed the remains to the grave. The pall-bearers were:

Chas. Hofer, Daniel Cutts, W. H. Doane, Geo. Hark, Chas. Galusha, Paris Elliot, E. Harris and Win. Chrysler.

When the Colorado Legislature assembled there was a dead lock in the Senate between Populists, Republicans and Democrats. It was broken however by members of the old party going over to the Populists. Sensible people.

The last legislature consolidated the offices of Secretary of State and State Printer. The law should be repealed, for no one but a practical printer should hold the latter office. As well make a barber boss of a machine shop.—Gazette.

A. Livingston now practically controls the wholesale liquor trade of the city. He is continually adding to his stock and sells only standard brands. He is also introducing some excellent California wines to the people of Carson, as well as foreign and domestic cigars of the finest quality. Drop in and inspect his stock.
